A rustic still-life photograph of various dairy products. In the foreground, a large, smooth, white ball of butter sits on a small, round, light-colored ceramic plate with a brown, speckled rim. To the left, a small, light blue ceramic bowl contains a smaller ball of butter. In the background, a glass pitcher is filled with fresh, white milk. To the right, a wedge of bright yellow Swiss cheese with characteristic holes is visible. In the upper left, a small glass jar contains a dollop of butter. The items are arranged on a dark, weathered wooden surface, with a blue and white plaid cloth partially visible in the background. A white rounded rectangle with a drop shadow is centered over the image, containing the text 'Dairy Recipes' in a bold, teal, sans-serif font.
