

LEARNING THROUGH MEANINGFUL QUESTIONS

Directions:

Find another person in the room that you do not already know. Using the questions outlined below, take turns interviewing each other. One partner will be interviewed using questions from Interview A. The other partner will be interviewed using questions from Interview B. After both interviews are complete, discuss wrap-up reflection questions together.

Activity:	Interview A questions:	Interview B questions:
Choose which partner will be interviewed first and begin with Interview A.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• What is your name?• Where do you teach?• Have you taught for more than five years or less than five years?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• What is your name?• What do you love about your job?• How long have you been in your current job and how did you get into it?
Switch and continue with Interview B.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Did you like school when you were little?• Do you like to be outdoors?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• What is your most memorable early education experience?• What do you like to do for fun?

Wrap up:

- Reflect on the differences between Interview A and Interview B:
 - How did it feel to be asked each set of questions?
 - Which interview was more meaningful?
 - Who feels like they know their partner more in depth?
- What are a few take away messages from this experience?
- How does this relate to teaching young children?
