GATHERING ACCURATE INFORMATION PLANNING FORM

Child's name:	Domain or learning goal:

Assessment method:	Activities:	Who will assess:	How often:

Possible factors that may influence the child's behavior:

To make sure the information is valid and reliable:

- The learning goal is important and meaningful.
- Several different methods are used to collect information.
- Information is collected from different activities and environments.
- Information is collected from different sources.
- Procedures for collecting information are clear to the teaching team.
- Enough information will be collected over time to assess the child's progress.